Transportation Technology Veteran Joins Mobile Knowledge

Kurt Dossin Named Eastern U.S. Sales Account Manager

Ottawa, Canada, April 1, 2010 - Mobile Knowledge Corp., a worldwide leader in mobile data communications, dispatch, and GPS-based vehicle location tracking systems for commercial Taxi, Limousine, and Paratransit applications, today announced the addition of veteran business development executive Kurt Dossin as Account Manager of its Eastern U.S. sales operation based in Chelmsford, Massachusetts.

Prior to joining Mobile Knowledge, Dossin served for six years as Northeast Regional Sales Director for RouteMatch Software, a leading supplier of transit and paratransit scheduling software and intelligent transportation system solutions. Dossin began his 20-year transportation career as Director of Sales and Marketing for Multisystems Inc.'s transit software division.

"We are extremely pleased to add Kurt Dossin to the Mobile Knowledge team," said Travis Gray, Director of Sales and Marketing for Mobile Knowledge. "Kurt's experience and local presence will allow us to further expand our sales and customer service activities in the eastern U.S."

Kevin French, President of Mobile Knowledge added, "With Kurt's considerable experience working with both public and private fleet operators, and extensive knowledge of Municipal and State government procurement processes, we expect he will be an excellent resource to our clients as they seek to take advantage of the growing trend towards Paratransit service offloading to private operators."

Mobile Knowledge offers a comprehensive suite of dispatch technologies to the For-Hire industry, including features and functionality that integrate with industry standard scheduling and routing systems.
